

Color by Musical Notes (Ages 11 and up)

In B.B.'s early years, he taught himself how to play. Later on, he learned how to read music. Learning how to read musical notes is very important to know. If you want to play an instrument like B.B., you need to know what each note means and when to play it. You can start now by learning what each note means in the picture and then color it using the correct note/color combination.
